We are again indebted to Leslie Sims, publisher of the Crockett Times, for a write up of a wedding which appeared in his paper this week.

We don't know where he gets such a rich supply of gags, etc., but these in addition to his own humor makes for good reading in his weekly column, "The Editor's Say-So."

The following is a writeup to end all wedding writeups. It appeared in an exchange:

"The groom is a popular young man who hasn't done a lick of work since he was shipped in the middle of his junior year at college. He manages to dress well and keep a supply of spending money because his dad is a soft hearted old fool who takes up his bad checks instead of letting him go to jail where he belongs."

The bride is a skinny, flat little idiot who has been kissed and paraded by every boy in town since she was 12 years old. She paints like a Sioux Indian, smokes cigarettes in secret, and drinks mean corn liquor when she is out joy-riding in her dad's car at night. She doesn't know how to cook, sew or keep house.

The house was newly plastered for the wedding and the exterior newly painted. The carrying out appropriately the decorative scheme, for the groom was newly plastered also, and the bride newly painted.

The groom wore a rented dinner suit over athletic underwear of imitation silk. His pants were held up by pale green suspenders. His number eight patent leather shoes matched his state in tightness, and harmonized nicely with the axiegrense polish of his hair. In addition to his jag he carried a pocket knife, a bunch of keys, a dun for the ring, and his usual look of imbecility.

The bride wore some kind of white that left most of her legs sticking out at one end and her bony upper end sticking out at the other.

The young couple anticipate a great evening in about five months.

On this date one year ago: Eric Johnson resigned as head of the Economic Stabilization Agency to return to his post as president of The Motion Picture Association. President Truman said the Korean war should not be made an issue in the 1952 presidential campaign.

On this date in history: The 56-ton vessel "Fortune" reached Plymouth, Massachusetts in 1621 with the first pilgrims and goods to arrive in the new world since the landing of the "Mayflower." An independent Philipine government took office in 1935. And the three-day sea battle of Guadalcanal, in the Solomon Island area, ended with victory for the United States fleet over the Japanese in 1942.

Man O' War, Kentucky bred world-famous race horse, lost only one race in his entire career. He was defeated in 1919, while a two-year-old, by Upset at Saratoga.

Tigers Lose Final Game Of Season To East High Eagles

By Joe Wilson
Mr. S. Hackett saw the game last night, but it wasn't much as East High's Eagles of Nashville swept Murray High off the field with a 40-12 victory. The contest was never close as the visitors had too much power for the Tigers of T. H. Land.

A badly injured riddled Tiger team fought valiantly and vainly all through the contest, but the win just wasn't in order. Bill Sled, tackle, Joe Pat Phillips, halfback, and Junior Childress, quarterback, were all absent from the contest.

Murray received the ball to open the contest. After three plays full back King quick kicked down to the East 25. East raked up four straight first downs, before the Tiger defense could get in shape enough to stop the attack. After the Nashville unit had raked up the first downs the Tiger line began to hold and East failed to gain in three more plays. Murray High took over, but nine plays and a first down couldn't push the ball into East territory for Murray.

East then took over on their own 45. East had produced a fine quick kick. Richard Gookin went off tackle for 41 yards, but a penalty on East High returned the brilliant run and 15 yards were marked off against East for clipping.

Gookin on three carries produced another first down. Herman Moore on a handoff from Dewitt Rice, raced 15 yards for another East first down and advanced the ball to Murray's 17 yard line. Gookin went through Murray's line for four yards and then on the following play around right end for the score. Phillips Brown attempted the conversion, but failed to add.

Murray High ran one play before the first quarter ended. The Tigers on four successive plays failed to gain. On the fifth try Joe Farmer, brilliant sophomore back, passed to Miller, but the toss was intercepted by East's Jerry West on his own 46. From there the Eagles started a drive that ended when they crossed the touchdown line. Rice passed a handoff to Ronnie Hickman and Hickman went over for the score. Brown's attempt this time was good.

After Murray High had again failed to do anything on offense the Eagles took over. Again the ball lay on the Tiger 46. Nine plays produced six more points for East and a 19-0 lead over the hapless Tigers. However with less than two minutes remaining in the first half Murray took over on their own. From there Joe Farmer Orr passed to Jerry King for 30 yards and the first time Murray had advanced into East High territory during the whole first half. On the East 45, Orr passed to Miller for an incompletion. Orr passed King for 20 yards on the next play, advancing the ball to East's 25. Orr hurried to Garland-Incomplete. With 15 seconds remaining in the first half Orr passed to King for 15 yards and then Jerry went King remaining yards for the touchdown. Murray's first. Dale Alexander's kick was wide.

Opening the second half the Tigers kicked off. After five plays and 60 yards East High managed to score their fourth touchdown.

LETTER CARRIES SKETCH OF MYSTERY ATOMIC BLAST

THIS IS THE ROUGH SKETCH OF THE far Pacific atomic explosion—possibly the test of a hydrogen bomb—sent home to Lima, O., by an unidentified man. His letter said the three-headed mushroom following the explosion spread to about 20 miles wide and that smoke and flames shot 15 miles high. He said he watched from 30.4 miles away and felt 180-degree heat from the explosion, and that a mile-wide island disappeared in fire.

Miss Sweden Takes Title Amid Boos

East and West can't get together on much of anything these days, not even beauty contests.

A London publication and a chain of dance halls thought they would get together and hold a contest, with the winner to be known as "Miss World."

In they came, beautiful girls from all over the globe, spectators stamped and cheered, and they yelled for two beauties in particular, a lass from Germany, and another from France.

The Londoners sang "Lili Marlene" for the German girl, and "We Want Mademoiselle" for the French lass. The judges should have taken their cue from the spectators. But they named a brunette from Sweden as the "Miss World."

The crowd roared its disapproval. The master of ceremonies tried to please everyone by saying over and over that even the judges hadn't been able to agree.

Christmas Seal Sale Gets Push

The annual Christmas Seal Sales program in Calloway county was given a big push Thursday evening when eighteen guests gathered at the home of Mrs. O. C. Wells for the "Seal Stuffing" party.

Guests mixed business with pleasure as they rapidly folded seals and letters and placed them in envelopes. These will be mailed Monday November 17 to the citizens of this county.

Guests were divided into two groups by drawing numbers; one group folded seals and the other group folded letters. Later in the evening guests relaxed for a prize drawing. The prizes were: a large lollipop. The prizes went to Mrs. A. F. Doran and Mrs. William Purdon. Another break came when the ladies molded turkeys out of chewing gum. The prize winner of this contest, Mrs. A. G. Outland, received a fruit cake baked by Mrs. Wells.

Refreshments were served by Wells, assisted by Miss Virginia Moore to the following members of the Home Department of the Murray Woman's Club: Mrs. C. G. Bondurant, Mrs. O. B. Boone, Mrs. A. F. Local Business And Professional Womens Club Back Health Drive

With at least two-thirds of American communities reported to be lacking in adequate public health protection, the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., is attempting to improve conditions through its 2800 affiliated clubs. Miss Tennie Brockenridge, president of the local club stated. These clubs are located in all parts of the country, in communities ranging from a few hundred population to large metropolitan areas.

The National Federation is guiding the clubs in methods to pursue in surveying public health conditions in their communities, preliminary to taking action for improvement.

Members of the local Business and Professional Women's Club believe that very few if any undesirable health conditions exist in the Murray community, and no local survey is planned at this time. However the Murray B. & P. W. Club urges all local citizens to cooperate in the national drive for better health practices.

Miss Hettie Irwin, president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, has stated:

"We are calling on our member clubs to investigate basic health conditions in their communities, checking on whether or not there is proper safeguarding of milk, water and meat supplies, efficient supervision of sewage and garbage disposal, control of communicable diseases, sanitary operation of beauty parlors, barber shops, trailer camps, restaurants, motels, motion picture houses and public rest rooms."

"Six thousand communities in the United States have no sewage systems, according to statistics of the National Health Association. Five thousand have no public water works. Even in some of our large cities part of the population gets its drinking water from yard facilities and uses outdoor toilets."

Less than one-tenth of our American people are safeguarded by professionally staffed, full time health departments. Forty millions are in areas that have no full time health departments, and millions more are served by understaffed health bureaus, with poorly trained personnel.

"Our clubs have completed the health surveys, they will bring to the attention of the local government such conditions as are a menace to health, and urge that legislation be passed to bring about improvement. The National Federation has taken a stand as opposed to 'compulsory government controlled health insurance and medical care, believing that local self-help measures will better solve community health problems."

According to the County Health Department those contributing to the dental work on indigent children are all of the high schools in the county and city, American Red Cross, Belk-Settle Company, Rotary Club, Lions Club, Woman's Club, American Legion and the Calloway Soil Improvement Association.

4-H Executive Meeting Held

At a meeting held at the National Hotel last night, the executive committee of the 4-H Association met to discuss plans for the Annual 4-H Association meeting to be held December 4.

The group decided to hold community meetings throughout the county within the next three weeks to elect directors for each individual neighborhood for the new year.

Starting next Tuesday night, the first community meeting will be held. Men and women from all neighborhoods comprising the community who are interested in 4-H club work and who are interested in having a leader or director elected for their neighborhood are urged to attend this meeting. The place of this first meeting has not been announced.

Committees present at the meeting were: J. W. Williams, president, 4-H Association, Glenn Doran, Sherwood Potts, William T. Downs, S. V. Foy and W. R. Hourigan.

SPORTS LINEUP

By United Press

The weatherman promises clear skies and brisk temperatures today as a backdrop for the biggest Saturday of the 1952 college football season. The "game of the day" is in East Lansing, Michigan, where Michigan State risks its 12-game winning streak against unbeatens Notre Dame. The Spartans are two touchdown favorites. Georgia Tech, unbeaten in 22 games, is a two touchdown favorite over bowl-hopeful Alabama at Atlanta. Unbeaten and untied Maryland is favored to blast the bowlegged teams of unbeaten but twice-bested Mississippi. Oklahoma is favored to three touchdowns over Missouri in a decisive Big Seven Conference game. Michigan is a slim favorite to down Purdue in a vital Big 10 game. Southern California gets the nod over Washington in a Pacific Coast Conference headliner. And Texas is expected to beat TCU and win the Southwest Conference title and a Cotton Bowl bid in other games. Princeton is favored over Yale. Pitt is expected to down North Carolina State. Syracuse is a big favorite over Colgate and Duke gets the nod over Wake Forest.

Here are the results of some of last night's games: Georgia, Washington 40; Davidson 13; Miami, Florida 33; Stetson 3; and Tulsa 62; Detroit 21.

World bantam weight champion Vic Toweel of South Africa is a heavy favorite to retain his title against Australia's Jimmy Carruthers in John Dunnington's fight. However, some experts predict upset, pointing to the fact that Toweel is a natural southpaw.

Changes Are Proposed In NCAA Meet

A plan is underway to change the date of the 1953 NCAA basketball tournament and to hold it one week earlier than it was played this year.

This announcement comes from NCAA executive director, Walter Byers, and Arthur Lomborg, the chairman of the NCAA's basketball tournament committee.

The plan is to hold the annual convention in Washington, D. C. starting January 8.

Sixteen teams were in the last

NCAA tournament, 10 of them conference champions. The new setup would call for five more conference champions in the tournament. The exact size of the field will be announced at a later date.

Under the proposed set-up, teams who have competed in other post season tournaments would be barred from the NCAA playoffs.

Elsewhere in basketball, John Wiclow has resigned as coach of Cincinnati University on the advice of his doctor. He has been replaced by freshman coach George Smith.

Minnesota announces Xavier of Cincinnati has replaced Kentucky on the Gophers' 1952-53 schedule.

The game will be played at Xavier on December 8. The Kentucky game was cancelled when the NCAA ordered the Wildcats to drop basketball this season because some players were involved in the fix scandals.

Waterfowl Season Opens In State At Noon Monday

FRANKFORT, Ky. —The waterfowl season opens in Kentucky at noon, Monday, and hunters have reason to expect pretty fair shooting in the traditional duck hunting sections of the state.

At least, that's the report from the state department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, which has looked into the prospects for this year.

The department wants to remind sportsmen of some of the rules governing duck hunting.

The hunting hours will be from one-half hour before sunrise until one hour before sunset, Central Standard Time, except on opening day when shooting may start at 12 o'clock noon.

The bag limit for ducks is four a day, with a possession limit of eight. The daily and possession limit may not contain more than one wood duck.

The possession and daily limit on geese is five, and the total may not include more than two Canada geese or white-fronted geese.

All waterfowl hunters must have a regular hunting license in addition to a duck license which may be purchased at post offices, in addition, all shotgun must be tagged so as not to hold more than three shells in the magazine and barrel combined. Use of ball ammunition is prohibited.

President Lou Pieri of the Providence Reds blames a "western bloc" for captain Pat Egan being suspended for the remainder of the American Hockey League season. Pieri says "it's probably the same majority of the western bloc that one year ago tried to throw Providence out of the league. The league's board of governors voted last night to suspend Egan for hitting two linemen in Cleveland on November 1.

MacArthur Gives His Philosophy

ILION, N. Y. (UP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur believes one "should live every day as though you were going to live forever."

He said "if you do that, merciful God will bless and preserve you." MacArthur spoke Tuesday at a dinner marking his first official visit to the Remington Rand Corporation, in Ilion, since he was named chairman of the board.

The five-star general, now 72 years old — read a poem called "Youth," to the 500 persons at the dinner. It read in part:

"You are as young as your faith."

"As old as your doubt."

"As young as your self-reliance."

"As old as your fear."

"As young as your hope."

"As old as your despair."

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

Answer to Yesterday's Puzzle

Color 'Truly' a Fourth Dimension

"Color is truly a fourth dimension," says Beatrice West, a color consultant who has styled the exteriors of more than 60,000 houses in all parts of the United States.

Miss West explains that color can create desirable illusions to make a small house look larger and to minimize poor architectural proportions or emphasize good ones. And she adds that "of course, skillfully used color always makes a home more attractive." Writing in a Practical Builder magazine, she makes these specific suggestions about color's fourth dimensional powers:

1-Roofs. The roof is normally the largest unbroken visible expanse and sets the color pace for the exterior. Light and bright asphalt shingle colors make a house appear higher. Dark and neutral colors make the house seem lower. New pastel shades in asphalt roofing fit the low, rambling ranch-style architecture, giving it a feeling of importance and greater size.

2-Exterior walls. Light tones make a house seem larger, and dark tones the opposite.

3-Trim. To increase the apparent size of a house, paint the trim to match the walls. For a house in a large home expanse, an exception to this rule is to paint the trim in contrasting colors for variety and individuality.

4-Accent color. A small house seems larger when the body tone of the house is light and doors are in dark, contrasting hues.

5-If the proportions of the dwelling are good, stress them by painting the best-looking

These two drawings show how light colors can make a house look larger than it really is. Both drawings are exactly the same size. Light-colored roofing makes a house seem bigger. New pastel colors of asphalt shingles "raise" a roof, and darker colors "lower" it.

structural parts in contrast to the general body color.

6-Disguise bad features by painting them to match surrounding areas.

7-Bright and warm colors advance and add size. For example, a red asphalt roof will look larger and higher than it actually is.

8-Darker and cooler colors recede and decrease size. A gray house with a gray asphalt shingle roof will look smaller. The 1952 is the key area in regard to visual mass, Miss West says.

"The importance of color to the appearance of a home cannot be overemphasized," the color consultant adds. "Color fools eyes.
Intelligent planning of color is the one means by which a big, awkward house can be made to appear as a more comfortable and manageable place in which to live."

BETTER EATING

TURKEY TRIMMING
Half the fun of fixing Thanksgiving dinner is in making the garnishes to serve with the tender, juicy roast turkey.

Cinnamon Fruit
Peel bananas. Cut lengthwise and then in thirds. Peel and slice oranges. Saute bananas and oranges in butter or margarine until lightly browned. Spoon whole cranberry sauce over the fruit. Simmer a few minutes until the bananas are soft. Sprinkle with cinnamon. Top each orange slice with banana and serve with roast turkey.

Frosted Grapes
Small bunches of firm sweet Tokay grapes frosted with sugar are a pretty decoration on the turkey platter.

To Frost
Wash the grapes and snip the stems to form small bunches. Stir two tablespoons white corn syrup into one cup of warm water. Put granulated white sugar in a small paper bag.

Dip the grapes in the syrup solution and drop a bunch or two at a time into the sack. Shake as you would for flouring chicken for frying. Place the sugared grapes on paper towels to dry.

Serve a bunch of grapes on each person's plate along with the turkey and dressing.

Some believe that gravy is more important. Because it is so important, we are including an easy, tasty recipe for smooth gravy that can be made before the turkey comes out of the oven.

Smooth Turkey Gravy
Brown turkey neck and giblets in one tablespoon hot fat. Dissolve two chicken bouillon cubes in two cups hot water. Pour broth and one small onion, chopped, over the neck and giblets.

Cover and simmer until giblets are tender. Discard neck. Strain broth. Chop giblets very fine and add to broth. Shortly before serving time put one-half cup water into a small jar, add two tablespoons flour. Cover quickly and shake until smooth. Stir heavily into turkey broth. Bring to the boiling point. Add salt to taste.

If gravy is too thick add a small amount of water. Serve it hot.

Faithfully

Students Censure Adult Drivers

Chevrolet checked 5,000 high school students on their opinions of adult auto drivers and found Disregard of Traffic Signs (enacted above) a prime target for criticism. Recklessness was worst fault in poll.

DETROIT—If an adult driver could look at himself through the eyes of the younger generation he'd see a person who is inconsiderate of others, who cheats a bit on speed laws and who thinks he can solve traffic jams by getting mad.

At least this is the picture given by a Chevrolet Motor Division survey which asked 5,000 high school driving students what they thought of their elders. Here's the way the juveniles ranked adult driving faults:

No. 1—Recklessness. ("Lots of times we ride the bumper of the car ahead.") No. 2—Poor Sportsmanship. ("He thinks the road belongs to him.") No. 3—Speeding. ("I'd go just as fast when there's traffic as when there isn't.") No. 4—Failure to Signal Properly. ("We got hit once when pop stopped too quick for a hamburger.") No. 5—Impatience. ("My father thinks he can untangle traffic by just swearing.")

No. 6—Disregard of Signs. ("Some speed up when they see 'Slow School Crossing'") No. 7—Inattention. ("When talks too much when ahead driving.") No. 8—Neglect of Car's Safety Features. ("All of us cross our fingers when dad steps on the brakes.") No. 9—Ignorance of Laws. ("When two drivers meet at a corner they eye each other like in a duel. Neither of them knows who's supposed to stop.") No. 10—Lack of Skill. ("She can't get out of a skid.")

The Chevrolet survey gave a cross section of national opinion. Cities covered included Baltimore, Los Angeles, Miami, St. Paul, Atlanta, Dallas, Denver and Pittsburgh among others.

Thieves Steal Nine Paintings From Church

BARDSTOWN.—Thieves have broken into St. Joseph's Cathedral at Bardstown, stealing nine oil paintings, three of which are believed by church authorities to be valuable "Old Masters," given to the church by King Louis Philippe of France.

The theft was discovered at six o'clock this morning by the right Rev. Monsignor James H. Willett, pastor of the 136-year old church which was the first Cathedral Church established west of the Appalachians.

Monsignor Willett says he found the door of the church broken open and ladders still leaning against the walls beside the opening picture frames. Other valuable items in the church, such as gold candlesticks, were untouched.

No precise evaluation ever has been placed on the paintings, nor have they been studied by art scholars to ascertain if they are really old masters. By Rubens, Murillo, Van Dyke and Van Eyck. But it is certain that they were the gift of the exiled French ruler, and church authorities are convinced of their authenticity.

Assuming they are genuine works of old masters, the collection could be worth hundreds of thousands of dollars. Authorities on art point out that the thieves will have great difficulty disposing of their loot. The pictures are well known to dealers and museum curators of the arrangements.

Resources Will Last Is Claim

WASHINGTON, (UP)—An agriculture department expert says that the nation's soil, water and fertilizer resources are more than ample to meet all future needs if they are used intelligently.

Dr. Robert M. Salter, chief of the department's oil conservation service, added however that farmers must take big strides in using more fertilizer and better farming practices if the soil is not to lose more of its fertility.

He made the following recommendations:
Use of 2 to 3 times as much lime as farmers are now applying. Growing more grasses and legumes as "cover crops" to replace organic and nitrogen losses and prevent erosion.

Returning crop residues and animal manures to the soil.

The Kirksey Homemakers Club will meet with Mrs. Macon Blankenship at one-thirty o'clock.

Wednesday, November 19
The East Hazel Homemakers Club will meet with Mrs. Robert Craig.

Taking advantage of hundreds of chemical fertilizers.

And making more efficient use of rain water by contour farming and growth of cover crops.
